DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendments

1. This Continued Examination Office Action is in reply to the Request for Continued Examination filed on 8 May 2009.
2. Claims 1-11 were subject to election/restriction by original presentation.
3. Claims 1, 3-5, and 7-10 have been amended.
4. Claim 11 has been withdrawn from consideration.
5. Claims 1-10 are currently pending and have been examined.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

6. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 8 May 2009 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

Constructive Election/Restriction

7. The office action mailed 9 December 2008 required new Claim 11 subject to restriction/election. The Examiner constructively elected by original presentation to examine Claims 1-10 and withdrew Claim 11 as being directed to a non-elected invention.
8. Applicants submit that the restriction/election asserted by the office action is incorrect. The Examiner respectfully disagrees. As stated on page 2 of the office action, subcombination II (Claim 11) has separate utility such as the manager is provided with a policy rating based upon a number of clients (now amended as "computers") operating under the corresponding policy, overall operation time of the corresponding policy among the plurality of clients (now amended as "computers"), and a number of applications running on the client (now amended as "computers") to be managed, and does not require the sending back the created policy list to a manager as required in subcombination I (Claim 1). Therefore, the constructive restriction/election requirement is made final and Claim 11 is withdrawn from further consideration.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed 8 May 2009 have been fully considered but they are moot in view of new grounds of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

10. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

11. Claims 1-5 and 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yang et al (Yang) (U.S. Pub. No. 2002/0169625).

With regard to Claims 1, 7, and 9, Yang teaches an operations management policy distributing method, apparatus, and program (contract management mechanism) for a computer network (client 106, computer) system having a plurality of computers (see at least the Abstract and paragraphs 6-10), comprising:

- upon receiving inventory information specifying an inventory (a quota of resources that be consumed under the contract) based upon one of hardware and software (hardware circuitry and software) of a computer (client 106, computer) to be managed, retrieving from a database operations management policies (license, license management software 152, software database 144) corresponding to the specified inventory (particular set of software) and creating a policy list detailing operations management policies suited to the inventories specified by said inventory information (lists terms of a license) (see at least paragraphs 6-10, 25-29, 46, and 91);
- sending back the created policy list to a manager (interact with the management system 102, submit an inquiry for a quote) (see at least paragraphs 26-28);
- upon receiving selection information indicating the selection by the manager of at least one operations management policy from said created policy list, retrieving from said database and acquiring the operations management policy specified by said selection information (select and license a set of software, contracts database 134, set of terms or rules) (see at least paragraphs 27-36 and 43-48);
- sending back the retrieved operations management policy to the computer to be managed (deploying the licenses and software, licensed software 154 is ready to be run) (see at least paragraphs 44-47).

With regard to Claim 2, Yang teaches:

- appropriately storing said inventory information in a database (software database 144) (see at least paragraph 46);

- extracting a difference between said inventory information and the inventory information stored in said database when said inventory information is received ("remix"), wherein said step of creating a policy list, retrieves from said database and creates a policy list suited to the inventory specified by said difference (alter the license) (see at least paragraphs 46-48).

With regard to Claim 3, Yang teaches:

- appropriately storing in a database usage frequencies (amount of resources that were consumed) of the operations management policies applied to said computer to be managed (see at least paragraphs 48-50).
- appending the usage frequencies stored in said database to each of the operations management policies detailed in said policy list (pro rata basis) (see at least paragraphs 48-50).

With regard to Claim 4, Yang teaches the number of references, the operating time and the number of applications of each of the operations management policies applied to said computer to be managed (specifics of the database, pro rata basis) (see at least paragraphs 48-50).

With regard to Claims 5, 8, and 10, Yang teaches an operations management policy distributing method, apparatus, and program (contract management mechanism) for a computer network (client 106, computer) system having a plurality of computers (see at least the Abstract and paragraphs 6-10), comprising:

- upon receiving inventory information specifying an inventory (a quota of resources that be consumed under the contract) based upon one of hardware and software (hardware circuitry and software) of a computer (client 106, computer) to be managed, retrieving from a database operations management policies (license, license management software 152, software database 144) corresponding to the specified inventory (particular set of software) and acquiring operations management policies suited to the inventory specified by said inventory information (terms or rules specified in the contract) (see at least paragraphs 6-10, 25-29, 38-48, and 91);

- sending back the acquired operations management policy (Licensing Deployment Mechanism) (see at least paragraphs 43-48).

With regard to Claim 6, Yang teaches setting for each operations management policy whether or not the deletion is allowable (cancels the license, deleting the licensing from the database 142), wherein said step of acquiring said operations management policy necessarily acquires those operations management policies set as non-deletable policies regardless of their usage frequency (see at least paragraphs 47-48 and 83-87).

Conclusion

12. The following prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:

- Wiegall (U.S. 6,484,261) discloses a graphical network security policy management.
